

IN-HOUSE TRAINING

now available to members

For over 10 years, ATFA has been delivering world-class technical training to members throughout Australasia. Over the same period, we've had requests from companies to conduct in-house training events for staff which are customised to the enterprise's business operations and, as a result of the numbers attending, highly cost effective.

ATFA is now proud to launch its 'in-house training' service to all member companies. You can choose from two levels depending upon your business structure and needs:

- 1 An existing ATFA program selected from our current Training Program Schedule
Cost - $2200 per delivery day plus travel costs and program notes, where applicable.
Please note, this excludes venue and catering costs which would normally be organised by the host business.

- 2 Customisation of an existing ATFA program by incorporation of company products and policies, and responds to any specialised training needs you may have - see the Training Program Schedule as a basis for determining what might suit your needs.
Cost - $2200 per delivery day + customisation fees (to be quoted), travel costs (where applicable) and program notes.
Please note, this excludes venue and catering costs which would normally be organised by the host business.

COST EFFECTIVE

With numbers of up to 20 employees allowable, ATFA in-house training offers exceptional value for money per person and also limits the time employees are away from the business given we come to your doorstep.

CUSTOMISED

The ability to customise the training program means it's 100% relevant to your business and that new skills and knowledge can be applied the very next day and make an immediate improvement to productivity and profitability.

CONSISTENT QUALITY

Being able to put through large numbers means that all your staff or all employees in a particular area of the business will be operating to consistent standards and with the skills needed to drive efficiencies and lift productivity.

FLEXIBLE

We work to your schedule so you tell us when and where you want to hold the training program.
